MONDAY, DECEMBER 22. 1735.

N^o 151.

L O N D O N.

Yesterday came in a Mail from France, and two from Flanders.

R. Woodward, his Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary to the King of Poland, died at Warlaw on the first Instant, after 6 Days Illness of an Apoplexy, very much regretted, because he was universally esteem'd.

We hear that two considerable Bankers of Berlin, viz. Splitberger and Daun have made a Crack; and that the Prince of Dessau having discover'd their fraudulent Intention, caused them to be apprehended at Magdebourg. It has been observed at Berlin, that three Couriers came thither in a very little time from London, which being sent back again immediately, they look upon it as a sure Mark of a good Harmony between that Court and this.

'Tis said that King Stanislaus has resolved to send Count Tarlo, the Waywod of Lublin, with the Character of Ambassador to the ensuing Congress of Peace. Where the said Congress will be held is yet uncertain, tho' 'tis affirm'd, that the French Minister having solicited the Emperor to nominate it, his Majesty made Answer, that he would leave that to the King his Master; and that it would be very agreeable to him, if his Most Christian Majesty would please to appoint Scissions, because the Cardinal de Fleury was inclin'd to be present at it, whose great Age would not permit him to go far off.

'Tis said that the Great Duke of Tuscany having Advice, that the Exchange of his great Duchy for the Duchy of Lorain, is stipulated by the Preliminaries sign'd between the Emperor and the King of France, sent a Courier to the Court of Great Britain to complain of the said Article, as a positive Contradiction to the Treaty of London in 1718, and that such Exchange was what he would never consent to; and they add moreover, that a long Council was held thereupon at London, after which the Courier was dispatched back to Florence.

At Petersburg they are coining, besides the current species, a great Number of Gold and Silver Medals, to be presented as New Year's Gifts to the Foreign Ministers, &c.

They write from Paris, that the General de la Moite, very well known for the Composition of a certain Elixir call'd English Drops, the Secret of which he sold to the King, died there lately in a very advanc'd Age.

By an Irish Mail we have the Votes of the House of Commons of that Kingdom of the 6th, 7th, and 8th Instant, by which it appears, that they have agreed, that the Acts of the 7th and 9th of King William, and of the 6th of Queen Anne, and the 4th of his late Majesty, for suppressing Tories, Robbers, and Rapparees, and for preventing Hobberies, Burglaries and other heinous Crimes:

And another Act in the 8th of the late Reign, intitled, An Act for amending an Act, intituled, An Act for the better and more effectual apprehending and punishing Felons and others, and for continuing and extending several Laws made in that Kingdom for suppressing the People aforesaid, and to prevent the Lifting of his Majesty's Subjects to serve as Soldiers in Foreign Service without his Majesty's License:

Also an Act in the first Year of his present Majesty's reign, and another passed last Session, for preventing Frauds and Abuses in his Majesty's Customs and Excise, and for settling the Rates of certain Goods and Merchandizes particularly valued in the Book of Rates:

And two Acts in the 5th Year of this Reign, viz. one for the better Regulation and Government of Seamen Merchants Service; and another for the better securing and collecting his Majesty's Revenue:

And another passed the last Session for buying and selling Corn and Meal, and other Things, in the said Act enjoin'd, by Weight, and for more effectually preventing Frauds therein committed, and regulating the Price of BREAD, and for better regulating the Markets, are Laws fit to be continued with some Amendments; and have order'd Heads of a Bill in pursuance of the said Resolution and Agreement.

They have also order'd Heads of a Bill to enable Archbishops, Bishops and other Ecclesiastical Persons, to make Leases for Lives or Years. And they have read the first Time the Heads of a Bill to prevent the Evil arising by the Retailers of Beer, Ale, Brandy, Rum, Geneva, Aquaviva, and other spiritous Liquors, giving Credit to Servants, Day-Labourers, and other Persons who usually work or ply for Hire or Wages. And also the Heads of another Bill to prevent Clandestine Marriages.

By another Mail from that Kingdom, since our last, there is Advice, that, on the 9th, the Commons passed the Bill for the additional Duty on Beer, Ale, Strong-Waters, Wine, Tobacco, &c. And another Bill, for the further additional Duty on Wine, Silk, Hops, China, Earthen, Japanned or Lacquered Ware, and Vinegar; as also a Tax of Four Shillings in the Pound on all Salaries, Profits of Employment, Fees and Pensions, to be applied to pay an Interest of 5 l. per Cent. per Ann. for the Sum of 300,000 l. or such Part thereof, as shall remain unpaid at Christmas next, and towards the Discharge of the said principal Sum.

A Bill was ordered the same Day, for the further explaining and amending the Acts in Force for erecting Lamps in the City and Liberties of Dublin: and Heads of a Bill were presented for rebuilding the Free School of King Charles II. in that City, commonly called the Blue Coat Boys Hospital.

On the 11th Heads of a Bill were presented for revising and amending several Statutes now or near expiring. And a Bill was ordered to prevent Persons from withdrawing themselves and their Effects out of the Kingdom, in order to defraud their Creditors, and to oblige the Owners and Masters of Ships to provide effectually for Passengers on board such Ships.

On the 12th the Commons passed the Bill, for the better Regulation of Partnership, to encourage the Trade and Manufactures of the Kingdom. And that to prevent the Evil arising by the Retailers of Beer, Ale, Brandy, Rum, Geneva, Aquaviva, and other spiritous Liquors, giving Credit to Servants, Day-Labourers, and other Persons, who work or ply for Hire or Wages. And ordered a Bill, for the further Amendment of the Law.

The same Day the Lord Lieutenant, in the House of Peers, sent for the Commons, and gave the Royal Assent to the Money Bills above-mentioned.

A Pickpocket was taken lately at the Entrance into Mr. Johnston's Ridotto at Dublin, who had the Impudence to pick a Pocket whilst in Custody; and being searched, above 50 Silk and Cambrick Handkerchiefs were found upon him, so that he was directly committed to Newgate, and is in a fair Way to be transported.

On the 11th a Woman from the Country being taken up by a Warrant, desired the Constable to take Share of a Quart of Ale, into which she put some Poyson, and he drank to one of his Company; upon which the both grew sick, and mistrusting they were poysoned, sent for an Apothecary, who plying them with hot Water, Oyl and Butter, they threw up the Poyson; and the Woman was committed to Newgate.

At the Court at St. James's, the 18th Day of Dec. 1735.

Yesterday being St. Thomas-Day, it was observed at St. James's as a high Festival. The Knights Companions of the most Noble Order of the Garter, Thistle and Bath, appeared at Court in the Collars of their respective Orders.

The same Day their Majesties, the Prince of Wales, and the Princesses Amelia and Caroline, went to the Royal Chapel at St. James's, and heard a Sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. George; and his Grace the Duke of Montagu carried the Sword of State.

Likewise the same Day the Rev. Dr. Clarke preach'd before the Duke and the two youngest Princesses.

Also the same Morning there was an Ordination of 18 Priests and Deacons in the Royal Chapel at St. James's,

James's, at which the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of London assisted. And

Last Night the Corps of the Lady Viscountess Palmerston was to be interred in Langley Church in the County of Bucks.

Major General Sutton, who has been dangerously ill of the Dropsy, at his Seat in Nottinghamshire, is now in a fair Way of Recovery.

The Report of Sir Brownlow Sherrard, Bart. being dead, is without Foundation.

This Day will be held a Wardmote in the several Wards of this City, for the Choice of their Common Council for the Year ensuing.

Information having been given, upon Oath, against three Women, who kept Publick-Houses in Drury-lane and Princes-street, that they were the Persons who furnished the late M^r Cray and Company, with Pistols and Instruments to favour their Escape from the County Jail in Southwark (which Pistols, &c. they conveyed to them in a Pye) they are all fled from their Habitations.

We shall add a Piece of Intelligence, which however improbable it may seem to the Generality of Readers, we can assure them, comes from a Gentleman of as unquestion'd Veracity as any in this City. He had, for Security from Thieves, thrust a couple of Bank Bills between one of the Vessels in his Cellar, and the Scantling on which it stood, folded twice double in half a Sheet of Blue Paper. But some Days after, when he had occasion to make use of them, he found they were gone, and went to the Bank to stop Payment; but at length suspecting that some Vermin had been in the Cellar, not quite so bad as House-breakers, he sent for a Ratcatcher, who, after some Search, found a Hole at the other End of the Cellar, into which he put his Arm, and took out the Bank Bills untouched, but there was not the least Scrap to be found of the Wrapper in which they were inclosed.

Advertisement concerning this Book.

This Masterpiece of religious Policy was published, many Years since, in Latin, French, and Dutch: Mr. John Schipper, a Bookfeller at Amsterdam, bought one of them; and among other Books, and afterwards reprinted it. The Jesuits being informed that he had purchased this Book, demanded it back from him; but he had then sent it to Holland. One of the Society, who lived at Amsterdam, hearing it said, that after, to a Catholic Bookfeller, by Name Van Eyck, that Schipper was printing a Book which concerned the Jesuits, replied, that if it was only The Rules of the Society, he should not be under any Concern; but desired he would inform himself what it was. Being told by the Bookfeller, that it was The Secret Instructions of the Society, the good Father, being gung up his Shoulders, and knitting his Brow, said, that he saw no other Remedy but denying that this Piece came from the Society. The Reverend Fathers however thought it not advisable to purchase the whole Edition, which they had after did, some few Copies excepted; from one of these it was afterwards reprinted, with this Account prefixed; which there said to be taken from two Roman Catholics, Mr. and Mrs. Credit.
